ALCOHOL AND THE BIBLE, Part 3

Nathan Franson

(Continued from last week) He confirms, "Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has contentions? Who has complaints? Who has wounds without cause? Who has redness of eyes? Those who linger long at the wine, those who go in search of mixed wine. Do not look on the wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup, when it swirls around smoothly; at the last it bites like a serpent, and stings like a viper. Your eyes will see strange things, and your heart will utter perverse things. Yes, you will be like one who lies down in the midst of the sea, or like one who lies at the top of the mast, saying: 'They have struck me, but I was not hurt; They have beaten me, but I did not feel it. When shall I awake, that I may seek another drink?'" (Prov. 23:29-35).

Alcohol appears attractive and satisfying. Think of the many entertaining commercials trying to make it seem harmless and acceptable. However, the reality is that it causes sadness, strife, complaining, and pain. "Redness of eyes" is an outward display of the inner body suffering. Notice Solomon does not say, "Drink responsibly." The only way to efficiently avoid this is to stay away from it.

1 Peter 4:13

Peter writes, "Therefore, since Christ suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind, for he who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh for the lusts of men, but for the will of God. For we have spent enough of our past lifetime in doing the will of the Gentiles—when we walked in lewdness, lusts, drunkenness, revelries, drinking parties, and abominable idolatries" (1 Pet. 4:13). The term "drinking parties" comes from the Greek word potos (πότος), referring to simply drinking together or carousing. Social drinking is nothing more than drinking with others and is condemned by Peter. "Drunkenness" here means "indulging in wine to excess with its consequent results" (Complete Word Study Dictionary of the New Testament).

Galatians 5:19-21

Paul writes, "Now the works of the flesh are evident, which are: adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lewdness, idolatry, sorcery, hatred, contentions, jealousies, outbursts of wrath, selfish ambitions, dissensions, heresies, envy, murders, drunkenness [emph., NF], revelries, and the like; of which I tell you beforehand, just as I also told you in time past, that those who practice such things will not inherit the kingdom of God" (Gal. 5:19-21). "Drunkenness" in the apostle's letter to Galatia is the same as his letter to Ephesus. It refers to the act of drinking and is listed among other sins of the flesh. This begs the question; how can one maintain complete self-control if impairment begins with the first drink? (To be continued next week)

"That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive; But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:" (Ephesians 4:14,15)

BIBLE QUESTION:

This week's question: In whose house did Jesus say, "She hath done what she could"?

Last week's question: Whom did Jesus tell, "I stand at the door, and knock"?

Last week's answer: The Laodiceans (Revelation 3:14,20)

SERMONS: "She Hath Done What She Could" (Mark 14:8)
